

Antiracism Workshop

An Analysis of Institutional Racism

Come and experience what others have found to be transformative learning and an analysis offering, hope, promise and purpose.

What others in our Diocese have said after attending this training...

"I believe I grew most in my sense of the institutional and structural character of racism but also in my hope that there are positive steps that we can take together."

[I] "enjoyed the workshop immensely. I would like to take this kind of processing and introduce it to my congregation to help them begin to fully understand their actions in relationship to their true identity."

"I felt there was a great deal of honesty and trust in the room. This was fostered by both the facilitators and the group itself."

Experience this for yourself.

People who serve the Diocese in leadership roles, all clergy and search committees are especially invited.

Note that this workshop can help fulfill clergy continuing education requirements and fulfills the requirement that all Diocesan lay and clergy leadership receive antiracism training.

You must be in attendance for the entire workshop.

When: April 22, 2010 5:30 pm until 9:30 pm
April 23, 2010 8 am (breakfast) until 7 pm
April 24, 2010 8 am (breakfast) until 5 pm

Where: Trinity Church, Gulph Mills
966 Trinity Lane
King of Prussia , PA 19406

Costs: $50 for DIOPA clergy and laity. Scholarships available.
$200 for all others who desire to attend.

Register: By April 11, 2010
<https://diopa.wufoo.com/forms/racial-reconciliation-training/>

*Presented by the Antiracism Commission of the Diocese of Pennsylvania
For additional information contact The Rev. Renee McKenzie-Hayward, renee177@comcast.net*